ST. LOUIS (UP)—The United States Court of Appeals will hear oral arguments Tuesday on three Little Rock School integration cases.

The appeals stem from actions of U.S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies at Little Rock last September. At that time, Gov. Orval E. Faubus called out the National Guard to prevent nine Negro students from attending Central high school. President Eisenhower, in turn, used federal troops to enforce the court's integration order. One case is Gov. Faubus vs. the United States government. Main issues are the line of authority between federal and state governments and the grounds for injunction against a governor. The federal district court has ruled Faubus had the right to use the guard to preserve order, as long as he did not interfere with the right of Negro students to attend Central high.

Faubus asserted his discretion on when and how to use the guard was not subject to review.

Mrs. Clyde Thomason and Mrs. Margaret C. Jackson, both officials of the League of Central High Mothers, in parallel actions seek to have Judge Davies overruled.

Mrs. Jackson alleged the mill-

Benson Firm in Stand on Farm Policy

WASHINGTON (UP)—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson today stood firm—apparently with President Eisenhower's blessing—against congressional efforts to force him to retreat from an imminent slash in dairy support prices.

Benson has charged that a Senate bill aimed at canceling his cuts in dairy and other farm price supports would "add unjustifiably to the nation's food and tax bills." He said his dairy support cuts would lower the retail cost of butter and milk.

High Agriculture Department sources said Benson's statement was carefully worded and cleared in advance with "persons outside the department"—a clear indication the President is behind him.

However, Rep. W.R. Poage (D-Tex.), a leader of the House farm bloc, predicted Benson would cancel all or part of the dairy support cuts slated for April 1—in an effort to "take the steam" out of the rest of the Senate bill.

Asks Benson to Debate — The Senate was prepared to act this week on the measure, which would freeze price supports across the board at 1937 levels. Its backers have labeled the bill an "anti-recession" move.

In addition to the April 1 slash in supports for dairy products, Benson has ordered reductions in supports for wheat and some feed grains effective later in the year. The House planned to take up the support-freeze bill as soon as it cleared the Senate.

At the same time, Benson received a new challenge for public debate on his policies. Clyde Y. Ellis, general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Assn., sent Benson a letter daring him to debate the administration's new rural electrification bill. Ellis said the bill was designed to "kill rural electrification."

Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) challenged Benson last week to a public debate on his policies. Benson told newsmen he wouldn't debate with Proxmire "or anyone else."

Processing Costs Increase

A House Agriculture subcommittee meantime called for an all-out federal research program aimed at slashing retail meat prices by reducing the cost of processing and distribution.

The group, known as the consumer study subcommittee, issued a report saying distribution and processing costs have jumped 42 per cent in the last 10 years partly because the meat industry has failed to develop more efficient operating methods.

It predicted that possible wage and freight rate increases may increase costs further. Meantime, it said, money received by the farmers has been declining.

Welfare Group in Conference at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Southwest Regional Conference of the American Public Welfare Association got into full swing today with a talk by the director of the national association. Sectional meetings are scheduled on welfare problems.

Gov. Orval Faubus was to give a brief greeting shortly after opening of the morning session, before the talk by association director Louisa Dunn, of Chicago.

The schedule called for a speech by Jay L. Roney, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare Director of the Bureau of Public Assistance, a luncheon with Alice Loebhaug, president of the Arkansas Association of Public Welfare Workers, in charge of a talk by Carl Adams, Arkansas public welfare commissioner, and four panel meetings on legal aspects of public welfare, administrative problems, long-term management, and the hard to reach family.

A highlight of Tuesday's meetings will be a banquet with C. Hamilton Moses, former president of the Arkansas Power and Light Company, the speaker. Further sectional meetings and special group meetings are also scheduled.

The conference ends Wednesday after a speech by Dr. Ellen Wilson, president of the American Public Welfare Association, and North Carolina public welfare commissioner.

Whiteside Fails to Show Up at FCC Hearing

WASHINGTON (UP)—Thurman A. Whiteside, a key witness in the House investigation of government regulatory agencies, failed to show up today for questioning about his financial dealings with Richard A. Mack.

Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.) of the House subcommittee on legislative oversight refused even to say if he knew why the Miami, Fla., lawyer failed to appear.

Whiteside was called before a federal grand jury here last week to present the records of his tangled financial relations with Mack. Mack resigned from the Federal Communications Commission in face of charges—which he denied—that he let money and friends influence his official actions.

Harris delayed opening of today's subcommittee session for 30 minutes, but Whiteside still failed to appear.

Harris then announced that "in view of the scheduled program today and a report the chair has received" he was cancelling today's hearing and will hold another one Tuesday.

Harris declined to explain the nature of this report.

Whiteside is scheduled for another appearance before the federal grand jury Tuesday.

Mack is down for a repeat appearance before Harris' subcommittee on Wednesday, but his lawyer said he still is suffering from nervous exhaustion and is "not too well."

Eisenhower Seeks to Extend Compensation for Jobless Workers

Clerk Held in Grocery Robbery

EL DORADO (UP)—Jerry Henry, 18, the clerk at a grocery store supposedly robbed last Monday night, was free on $2,000 bond today, after police questioned him about theft of $1,030 from the store.

The authorities arrested Henry Saturday night in connection with the alleged holdup. He had told police a Negro forced him to open the safe in the Plaza Wag-a-Bag store and hand over the money.

Police said Henry took them to an abandoned homestead about a mile west of here and showed them the cash hidden in a rotten log.

Court Refuses Devil's Den Park Case

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today threw out an appeal of the State Parks and Publicity Commission on ownership of 80 acres of land in the Devil's Den state park, but left the case open for further action.

The court dismissed the Commission's appeal from a Washington chancery court order in which the lower court claimed jurisdiction on the Commission had contended the chancery court did not have authority to decide ownership of the land.

The Supreme Court, in an opinion by Associate Justice Edgar McFadden, refused to take up the case because the chancery court had not written a final order.

Neil W. Woodward in February, 1957, filed a suit in chancery court saying he owned the 80 acres because the state, when it took over the land around 1935, made a mistake in saying taxes had not been paid on it. He alleged he did not know of his ownership until about March 1, 1950, and asked the court to give him title.

The chancery court overruled a demurrer by the Parks Commission that it did not have jurisdiction, and the Commission appealed to the Supreme Court.

In another case, the court said a widow, children by a previous marriage and acknowledged illegitimate children are entitled to workmen's compensation payments even though the father might not have been their sole support when he died.

The case from Phillips circuit court was brought by the Chicago Mill and Lumber Co. It contended it did not owe money to Mrs. Irene Smith, the widow of the late Warren Smith, or to her son by a previous marriage, a daughter of Smith's by another marriage, and an acknowledged illegitimate child of Smith's.

The Workmen's Compensation Commission had awarded payments to the children but not to Mrs. Smith on the theory she was not dependent. The circuit court upheld the ruling.

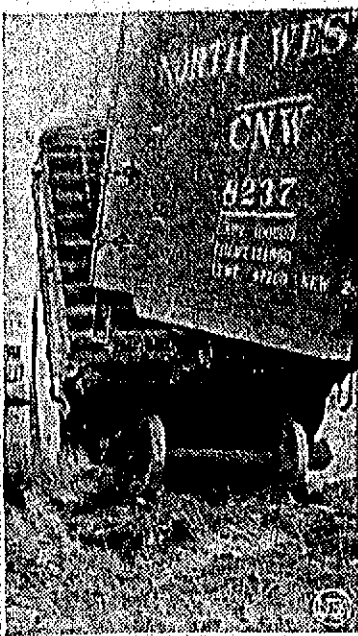

"There is substantial evidence to sustain a finding that at the time of his death, Warren Smith was not contributing to the support of his wife or any of the children mentioned. Notwithstanding this fact, we think the widow and children are entitled to compensation," the court said in the opinion by Associate Justice Sam Robinson.

In another Washington county case, the Supreme Court said a receiver for bonds cannot be forced to pay the debt of a husband unless he owes money to the estate under receivership.

The case was an appeal by the College Club Dairy, which alleged the Medows Dairy owed it $9,228.

Stripper Hurls Tomato at Anita Ekberg

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Stripper Evelyn (Treasure Chest) West, stuck by her guns today with her charges of professional "jealousy" against burlesque actress Anita Ekberg.

Miss West, 45½, made the charge after splattering Miss Ekberg (39½) with a double-barreled tomato blast at a theater where the Swedish actress was appearing in connection with a new film.

Miss West, who has courted publicity by insuring her "treasure chest," fired the tomatoes from the front row of the Cables Theatre in nearby Coral Gables, scoring twin "bullseyes" on Miss Ekberg's left hip.

The stripper said she was angry because the actress had walked out on her night club strip act the night before. "I guess she must be jealous," Miss West said.

Pressure High for Action to Halt Recession

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower will ask Congress Wednesday or Thursday to extend the number of weeks that jobless workers may draw unemployment compensation, the White House announced today.

The announcement, following up the President's Saturday statement of anti-recession plans, came as the administration and Congress rushed ahead with measure to head off a depression.

The White House gave no details but it was reported Eisenhower would propose that benefits be paid for a total of 39 weeks. Under varying state laws, the periods in which the benefits can now be drawn range from 16 to 20 weeks, with most of the large industrial states paying them for 20 weeks.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell may spell out details of Eisenhower's new plan in a speech Tuesday to the AFL-CIO emergency economic conference.

Review Defense Contracts — Other developments in the anti-recession drive:

—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson called for quick congressional approval of resolutions urging the President to fight the business slump by spending more money on government construction projects. The President said Saturday he "already" is doing this as part of his new seven-point anti-recession program.

—The United Press learned that Eisenhower may add an eighth point to his program by recommending sharply increased hospital construction.

—The Defense Department announced that in line with the President's "priming program," the military services will spend more money on procurement in areas of unemployment and to view their buying policies to "assure the maximum number of contracts" to small business in such areas. An 80 per cent increase in defense contract awards is planned for the first six months of this year.

—White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President's entire anti-recession program "will be a major topic" of discussion at Eisenhower's meeting Tuesday with Republican congressional leaders.

Ask Program Speed Up — Besides the unemployment compensation proposal, the program includes acceleration of military construction and procurement contracts, an early start of small reclamation projects, new funds for water resources projects, more spending on highways, two steps to encourage lending for new homes, and placement of more military contracts in "labor surplus" areas.

Deputy Defense Secretary Donald A. Quarles said Friday that Defense Department had ordered a 50 per cent acceleration of both military and construction procurement contracts during the first six months of this year. Hagerty said today that figures should have been 80 per cent.

The increase would be from $9,200,000,000 in such contracts awarded in the last six months of 1957 to $11,300,000,000 for the first half of this year.

Appearing before the Senate Public Works Committee today, Johnson said Congress will carefully examine the President's anti-recession program. But he said "There is little we can do to create jobs now when they are needed except to speed up programs already in existence."

He asked committee approval of his resolution giving the President formal notice that Congress wants spending speeded up on civil works projects it already has authorized.

Children Are Found Living in an Attic

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—Authorities today planned physical examinations for three mentally retarded children found living in an attic to determine if they suffered from malnutrition as a result of alleged parental neglect.

Authorities said if such is the case, the children may be taken from their parents and raised in an institution.

The parents denied neglecting the youngsters, now in a children's home.

Police said the children, two boys aged 12 and 15, and their 14-year-old sister, told them they were virtual prisoners for seven years in the attic of their parents' one-story home. Four normal brothers and sisters were said to have had the "run of the house."

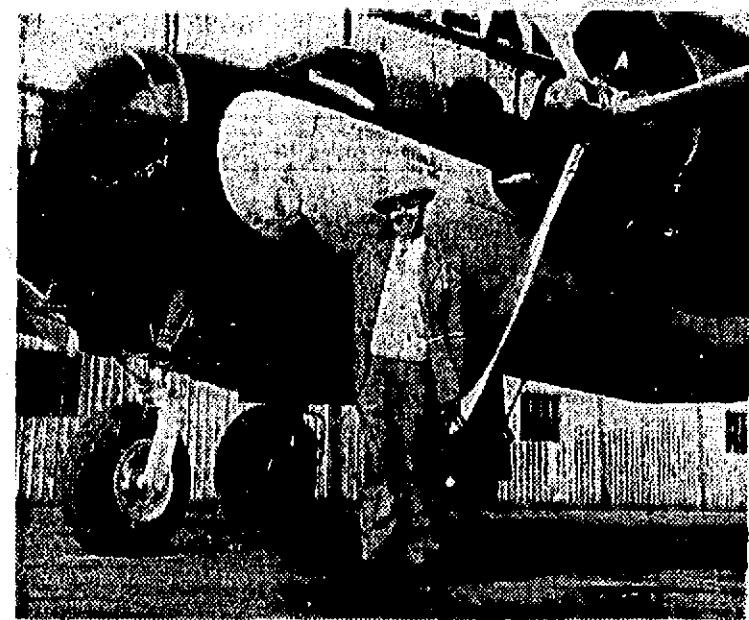

The younger boy and his sister approached a policeman Friday night and asked to be adopted because they were afraid to return home, police said.

An investigation disclosed that the youngsters lived in an attic with no insulation, broken down metal beds, old unpalatable furniture and mattresses with "a dragged through the mud look."

The three youngsters told police they were given a diet of bread, milk, water and cereal once a day, their only decent meal being provided at school.

Their father said the attic rooms where the children lived were heated, but they could turn the heat off if they wished. He said sheets and pillow cases were off

Baptists Prepare for Large Crowd to Hear Industrialist

An all-male chorus numbering approximately 50 voices has been added to the program at First Baptist Church where R. G. LeTourneau, famed industrialist, will address a mass meeting at 7:30.

Herbert Valentine, music and educational director, said the chorus would be made up of members of the church brotherhood which is sponsoring the appearance of Mr. LeTourneau.

Dr. John H. McClanahan, pastor, announced that church delegations from throughout Southwest Arkansas were expected in Hope. The meeting is open to the public and there will be no collection taken. Mr. LeTourneau accepts no money, but travels throughout the United States and Canada at his own expense.

In the past 20 years he has flown the equivalent of more than 100 times around the world in his private airplanes to tell of his practical application of Christian principles to his business of manufacturing heavy earth-moving equipment. In the past ten years he has told audiences of more than two million how he literally made God his senior partner. "Not how much money I shall give the Lord, but how much of the Lord's money I shall keep for myself," is LeTourneau's motto. In practice, he gives 90 percent of his profits to God's work.

He made his first million dollars in 1936, and since then he has contributed millions of dollars to furthering the Christian doctrine in this country and abroad.

Mr. LeTourneau has been flying for more than 20 years, ever since a head-on automobile collision in Tennessee which killed outright five persons and left both Mr. and Mrs. LeTourneau in serious condition.

His testimony also revolves around the time when he was on the brink of moral, spiritual and financial bankruptcy, out of which has arisen one of America's greatest success stories.

thorized. A companion resolution will be considered later this week by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Both are sponsored by 48 Senate Democrats—all except Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.)—and 18 Republicans.

More Debate Sited Johnson estimated that more than $7,100,000 in unexpended balance is available to the administration from money already appropriated for both civil and military construction.

The resolution on civil works would affect about four billion of that total, he said.

The Senate Public Works Committee scheduled a session today on Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson's two resolutions calling for stepped-up spending of money already voted by Congress for civil and military construction projects. Johnson said the administration had $7,100,000,000 in unexpended money for these projects last Dec. 31.

The Senate is slated to start debate Tuesday on a $1,850,000,000 housing bill and later this week on legislation to prevent reductions in farm price props. A public works subcommittee will hear administration officials Tuesday on plans for pushing federal highway spending.

In the house 13 Democratic members of the Banking Committee joined in sponsoring a bill to set up a $2,500,000,000 program of 50-year, 2 percent federal loans to cities to build community projects and public works.

RR Anti-Trust Suit Upheld by High Court

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court today affirmed an anti-trust conviction against the Northern Pacific Railway.

The high court, in a 5-3 ruling, upheld a judgment of the Federal District Court at Tacoma, Wash. The Justice Department began prosecuting the suit in 1949.

The Northern Pacific was found guilty of illegally stifling competition by requiring buyers or lessors of its land to agree, in the real estate contracts, to ship goods produced on the land on the Northern Pacific.

The decision was the court's only opinion issued today. It was announced by Justice Hugo L. Black.

It had the effect of invalidating clauses in sale and lease contracts on vast areas of the Northwest. The land is now being used by oil and gas, iron ore, timber, and cattle-raising companies and individuals.

The railroad operates in Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon. In 1884 and 1870 it got by act of Congress more than 39 million acres of public land along its routes. By 1949 it retained only about 2,700,000 acres.

Northern Pacific told the court more than 80 per cent of its land had been sold without the trafficking agreements.

The tie-in agreements permitted shipment by Northern Pacific only, provided its rates were equal to those of competing lines. The Justice Department said alternative means of transportation are available by rail, motor, and steamer for many of the commodities concerned.

ARKANSAS' Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is 17-year-old Patsy Pappas of Waldron high school, Waldron, Ark. She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills for gaining the highest score in the state in a written homemaking examination.

Previously all-white high school. "Our best judgement at this time is that until pending actions are adjudicated, the appointment of such a (study) commission, would only compound an already complex situation," the board said in its prepared statement.

"Under existing circumstances, we cannot define the purposes, duties, responsibilities and areas of study and action to be delegated to such a group with sufficient clarity to justify our asking persons of recognized stature and understanding to assume such a delicate undertaking," the statement said.

In other action, the board approved plans for a vocational-technical school at Pine Bluff authorized by the 1957 Arkansas Legislature. It approved drawings by a Little Rock architect, and ordered him to advertise for bids, to be opened April 7.

The Legislature approved construction of the school as the first of several to be built in the state. Rep. Paul Van Dusen of Perry county supported the legislation on the grounds that the state needed the facilities to turn out more trained labor in the state's stepped-up industrial campaign.

Guild, Pulitzer Co. in Agreement

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Newspaper Guild members voted today on a contract settlement offer reached by the Pulitzer Publishing Co. and the union.

The agreement provides for general per cent wage increase to a maximum of $7.50. Retroactive to Jan. 1, the contract covers about 650 St. Louis Post-Dispatch employees.

The local's executive committee voted Saturday to recommend acceptance of the contract to its members after almost continuous negotiating sessions attended by federal mediators. The agreement also is subject to ratification by the American Newspaper Guild.

Principle issues involved in the dispute centered on job transfers and Guild jurisdiction over work in preparing material for the newspaper.

Negotiations between the Guild and the company were in progress four months before conciliation aid was sought.

Arkansan May Get FCC Post

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower sent to the Senate today the nomination of John S. Cross, State Department communications expert, to succeed Richard A. Mack as a member of the Federal Communications Commission.

Mack, a Florida Democrat, resigned last Monday under fire of house investigators who are looking into his role in the granting of a license to a Miami TV station.

Cross, whose legal residence is Arkansas, also is a Democrat. The FCC already has the four Republican members permitted by law.

Cross, 53, was nominated to serve until July 1, 1962—the unexpired portion of Mack's seven-year term.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" ## Dulles Arrives

Dulles was less definite. He said only "We came to discuss the problems of SEATO and those will occupy us fully" at the meeting starting Tuesday. He called on his arrival for "strengthening further the fabric of this regional defense organization."

All indications were the conference would ignore a series of Communist propaganda moves aimed at either disrupting the meeting of the Southeast Asia allies or trying to take the edge off any propaganda moves SEATO might make itself.

Chinese Communist broadcasts today carried long and angry blasts against the SEATO Council of Ministers meeting. One quoting the official Peoples Daily in Peking asked the Asian peoples to "shatter the anti-peace provocations" of the Manila session.

Other broadcasts accused the United States of trying to increase world tension by setting up a network of military strategic bases in the Far East and of linking up the SEATO members with the Baghdad Pact and with NATO.

Moscow expressed hope for a collective security arrangement for Asia and Europe and appeared to Asian countries to ban rocket bases on their territories.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I notice you frequently report on other women's experiences with universal problems. You might be interested in mine. Eleven years ago I married for the third time, having divorced my first two husbands. My third spouse was a drunkard and after seven years of hard work, worry over our affairs and constant struggle, I had a nervous breakdown. At 60, I'm too old to get another divorce and, besides, I've found out that it never settles anything. Besides, it was very expensive for me. The two men I divorced have now settled down to serene family life, they've raised children, and everything seems okay with them, while I have achieved nothing and feel everything would have worked out if I had just stuck with my first. I need patience and understanding, of which I didn't have at the time. I'd sure know better now. B. B.

Dear B. B.: Your story could be echoed and re-echoed across the land. Most divorcees would tell you they're sorry they resorted to legal methods to settle their marriage difficulties. Instead of using reason, and the famous bears of marriage, "Bear and Forebear." Every possible means should be tried before going into a divorce court. We have clergymen, most of whom are trained in the art of saving, as well as performing marriages. There is free legal advice, free (or moderate cost) family counseling, societies such as Alcoholics Anonymous, for special problems, and judges who are only too anxious to avoid granting a divorce decree.

I will gladly supply any reader with the name and address of the nearest family counseling agent, if you will write me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. If marriage hasn't worked out exactly as you hoped, concentrate on saving, rather than dissolving it.

stamped, self-addressed envelope. If marriage hasn't worked out exactly as you hoped, concentrate on saving, rather than dissolving it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Since school days my son has gone with the daughter of a very dear friend. We had always hoped they'd marry. Now he has met a girl in the town where he's stationed and says he's in love with her. He brought her home one weekend and she made a very good impression on all of us. Still, for the sake of our lifelong friendship, we'd still like to see him marry the first girl.

Dear Mrs. K. G.: Young people choose their own mates and whether the parents involved are friendly or not makes little difference. Just be thankful the girl of his choice is a nice girl and welcome her warmly as a daughter-in-law.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Bill and I are deeply in love. Our only problem is that he has a bad reputation. I've been told to stop seeing him. What can I do? FRANCES

Dear Frances: Stop seeing him. Nothing is more catching than a bad reputation. Keep dating Bill and you'll share the unsavory one he has.

HEALTH FACTS

by BILL PRESSON
Your Blue Cross-Blue Shield Representative

I hope that by now most of you know me as the Blue Cross-Blue Shield representative for your city. I want to keep in touch with you and to make new acquaintances through this little column called "Health Facts," which will appear in this newspaper from time to time.

Did you know that the average American suffers three colds a year? And did you know that the average person shifts from deep sleep to light sleep and back again every hour or so during the night? This might explain why some of us are so worn out every morning.

I noticed in a recent article released by the Arkansas Hospital Association that we are using 80% of the available general hospital beds in this state. Isn't it strange how our attitudes change? Fifty years ago the hospital was the last place we wanted to go, or the next to the last place. Now we seem to depend on the services of the hospitals and doctors for many of the treatments that used to be taken care of at home. The result? We're living longer and we're healthier while we're alive.

That's all I have for now. I'll be in town soon. If you want to get in touch with me, leave your name and telephone number at the hospital or your doctor's office.

See you soon.

BRIDGE BLOCK—The best engineering brains probably couldn't design a more effective bridge block than this rendering company truck jammed in a bridge over Blacklick Creek in Columbus, Ohio. The driver, William McNamara, was not injured. How the accident to the fully loaded truck happened is open to speculation. However, there will be no speculation for the fish in the creek below as to where their next meal is coming from.

DOGS

By FARLEY MANNING

Professional dog people know that most dogs "go off their feed" occasionally and don't worry about it. Going off feed means that for a day or so, a dog just doesn't eat much if anything, and it seems to be a normal and intuitive thing for a dog to do.

But a real problem to both kennel owners and just plain pet owners are the dogs that are known as "poor feeders."

These are the dogs who pick at their food—don't like many things and actually injure their health by eating to little. Coupled with this trait is apt to be an unusually nervous disposition, and the combination of the two often shows up in too little weight.

Most vets recommend the feeding of supplementary vitamins in such situations and this, in most cases, will do the job. However, popping a pill down the throat can be a nuisance and while it takes care of the vitamin deficiencies, doesn't do anything to make up for the lack of bulk.

Delaney Is Beaten on Indoor Track

NEW YORK (UP)—A couple of guys named Smith and Jones stole the thunder from Ron Delaney in what may have been the Irishman's last appearance here in an indoor track meet.

The Smiths were Rudy Smith, a Bates College sophomore who surprised everyone by winning the 600-yard run Saturday night in the New York K. of C. meet. The Joneses were Hayes Jones, a 19-year-old sophomore from Eastern Michigan College who repeated his national AAU triumph over Elias Gilbert in the 60-yard high hurdles.

While Smith and Jones were setting 1958 records for a board track, Delaney leaped home to win the Columbian Mile for the third straight year in four minutes, 34 seconds. It was his 22nd straight indoor mile victory and his 27th triumph in a row indoors at all distances.

Smith, an after thought in selection of the four starters for the 600, won going away in 1:10.6. Jones jumped off the blocks with a rush and won the hurdles in 7.1 seconds, the only meet record of the night, although Gilbert almost nipped him at the tape. Gilbert had won five previous hurdles races this season.

Joe Soprano of Manhattan won the 1000-yard run in 2:10.2 and Pittsburgh took the featured one-mile relay in 2:17.7, both season bests on boards.

Previous Winners in Oaklawn

HOT SPRINGS (UP)—Three previous winners will try for another triumph today in the $3,000 Magnolia Purse at Oaklawn Park.

The feature event will be the sixth of an eight-race program with nine four-year-olds and up going six furlongs.

Walter Dorsey's Happy Union will be top weighted at 113 pounds and the likely favorite. H. H. Mundy's Colleen, also carrying a top impost of 113 and Mrs. Ann Mazo's Gold Key, 110, will be trying for their third win.

Colleen won the $2,800 New York Press-Purse and Gold Key won the $2,600 Arkansas Best race last week. Happy Union won the Morning Id. Purse. The five-year-old gelding also won the $3,000 Airlines Purse Feb. 28.

SYRIA CHARGES INCIDENT
DAMASCUS, United Arab Republic (UP)—An Israeli unit opened fire on an Arab shepherd in an attempt to steal his herd of cattle in the Banias area of the Syrian-Israeli and demilitarized zone Sunday, a Syrian military spokesman said. The spokesman said Syrian army units rushed to the shepherd's aid and saved the cattle. There were no Arab casualties, he said.

SMU, Arkansas Play Tuesday at Shreveport

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

Dayton's favorite in the National Invitation Tournament, but who do you like in the big NCAA Major-College Basketball Tourney West Virginia Cincinnati, Kansas State

The No. 1 role in the 24-team NCAA carnival is up for grabs today — for the first time in the last three years. In 1937 North Carolina (the winner) and Kansas were standout choices and in 1950 San Francisco was heavily favored for its second straight crown.

But in this year's tourney, opening with eight first-round games Tuesday night, any one of a half-dozen teams could be called the favorite.

How about Temple, which has the nation's longest winning streak, 23 games. Or San Francisco, rated the "class of the West Coast" with 20 straight wins.

Before these questions can be answered, the NCAA must settle its last two unfilled berths by playoff games.

California and Oregon State clash tonight at Eugene, Ore., for the Pacific Coast Conference championship and tourney berth. Oregon State muffed its chance to clinch the crown Saturday night when it lost to Idaho, 62-53.

SMU and Arkansas, who tied for the Southwest Conference championship, play for that crown Tuesday night at Shreveport, La.

Indiana, west Virginia, Maryland and Wyoming all clinched NCAA berths Saturday night. Indiana nipped Michigan State, 75-72. (n) State's court to win the head-and-head duel for the Big set, defending NCAA champion North Carolina, 86-74, in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament at Raleigh, N.C. West Virginia romped, 74-58, over William, and Maryland in the finals of the Southern Conference Tournament at Richmond, Va., the Mountaineers' 36th straight win over a league rival.

Wyoming "backed into" the Skyline Conference title, blowing a 75-55 decision to Montana but clinching anyway when second-place Colorado State took a 105-79 shellacking from NIT-bound Utah.

The NCAA Tournament opens Tuesday with the following games: at New York: Maryland-Boston College, West Virginia-Manhattan, Connecticut-Dartmouth; at Evansville, Ind.: Miami (Ohio)-Pittsburgh, Tennessee-Texas Tech; at Stillwater, Okla.: Oklahoma State-Loyola (La.); at Berkeley, Calif.: Wyoming-Sentinel, Idaho-St. Arizona.

Tuesday winners, plus the eight conference champions, who play first round byes, go into four regional tournaments Friday and Saturday.

The NIT, with all games at New York's Madison Square Garden, opens Thursday night.

The NCAA Small-College Tournament opened last week with regional eliminations and the eight regional winners qualified to play in the championship tournament at Evansville, Ind., Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Heading the qualifiers was defending champion Wheaton (Ill.) with a 26-1 record.

The 32-team, NIA small college opens its week-long grind today at Kansas City. Eight first-rounders are scheduled today and eight Tuesday.

Fort Smith Winner of State Title
LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Fort Smith's Grizzlies reign as Arkansas' AA-AA high school basketball kings; thanks to a persistent defense, savagely rebounding and 6-6 Tommy Boyer.

Fort Smith hammered out a 40-32 win over Little Rock Central's Tigers Saturday for the crown.

Of course, the fact the Tigers couldn't hit from the free throw line was a big factor, too. The Bengals made a valiant try in the last half after being down 38-8 at the first quarter mark and behind 39-19 at halftime.

Boyer, who grabbed rebounds and hit 11 points in the title game, was the big reason for Fort Smith's triumph. He was named the tournament's outstanding player.

It was Fort Smith's first state title since 1955.

Fullerton Going to University
LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Central High's much-sought halfback Bruce Fullerton plans to attend the University of Arkansas.

He said Sunday he will try for an engineering degree at the state school.

The speedy halfback scored 47 touchdowns in two years for the Tigers as they ran their unbeaten streak to 33 games.

Georgia Tech, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Clemson were among the other schools which attempted to snare him.

LEAD WITH YOUR LEFT

by ED LACY

CHAPTER XXV

I walked over to Lexington Ave. and took the subway to Brooklyn. Excitement mounting in me. It was a small saving bank and the manager looked as if he'd just been phoned from a firehouse. A little on the sleepy side, I'd give odds he was wearing one of those old-fashioned detachable, hard-collared shirts. He gave me the usual song and dance about it being most "irregular" to give out the info I wanted. I told him it was also "irregular" to kill ex-cops.

From his records and the code number of the $4,000.75 check on the deposit slip he told me it was drawn on the Capital Exchange Bank & Trust but he had no way of knowing which branch. I showed both pictures to the tellers and a tall, slick-looking colored woman said she was "pretty sure" Owens was Francis Parker.

While I checked the Brooklyn address Francis Parker had given when he opened the account—and found it to be phony—the loaner compared Parker's signature card with Ed Owens' lodge card. We didn't have to be handwriting experts to see they were the same—a cramped way of writing "a" and "e."

I went back to downtown Manhattan, to the head office of the Capital Bank & Trust, and ran into trouble. I was backed from one stuffed shirt official to another, each insisting on a court order or a note from the D.A. But finally I landed in the office of the top banana. He was a plump little fellow with a butter-ball face beaming at a baby's rear, a pointed waxed moustache, and a good gray wig that took me a lot of minutes to make.

He examined my badge as if it was a work of art, said, "I don't

Vienna Opens Its Trade Fair

VIENNA (AP)—Vienna's spring trade fair opened today with 3,500 exhibitors from 20 nations. West Germany, with a total of 1,057 exhibitors, topped the list of foreign firms represented, followed by Great Britain with 149 and the United States with 144. The Soviet bloc is represented by East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary and the Soviet Union.

Ingrid Has Another Boy Friend

GOTHENBURG, Sweden (UP)—Actress Ingrid Bergman and the 45-year-old theatrical producer who brought her here to meet his parents go separate ways Tuesday—but all signs indicated the separation would be only temporary.

Miss Bergman, whose romance with Italian film producer Roberto Rossellini flowered on the Mediterranean island of Stromboli, told newsmen Sunday she will return to spend the summer on an island newly purchased by her Swedish bachelor friend Lars Schmidt.

Neither she nor Schmidt would confirm "at present" that they intend to marry after her separation from Rossellini becomes permanent. But they wouldn't deny it, either.

Asked point blank about wedding rumors, Miss Bergman just smiled. Schmidt said: "I have to talk like a diplomat. I can neither confirm nor deny these rumors."

The pair apparently met while Miss Bergman was appearing in Paris in Robert Anderson's play "Tea and Sympathy", to which Schmidt has European production rights. They have been seen together in Paris and London frequently since Miss Bergman and Rossellini separated several months ago.

British to Halt 'Health' Visitors

LONDON (AP)—Britain's immigration officers who have been ordered to try to stop foreigners coming into the country for the purpose of using the free national health service, the Sunday Graphic said today. The government's health service, instituted by the Laborite government 11 years ago, is available to needy foreigners resident here as well as to Britons. The Graphic said two Americans living in Spain were turned back recently when they tried to disembark at Tilbury, near London. It said American wives of U. S. Service men stationed in Britain have been known to bring relatives over for major operations.

Fire in Paris Palais Controlled

PARIS (AP)—Fire broke out at dawn today in the huge glass-roofed Grand Palais—the city's main exhibition hall—but was quickly brought under control. No casualties were reported. The Grand Palais is one of the city's most prominent landmarks. Officials said the fire, which started in a furniture stand, apparently was caused by a cigarette.

It had his own remodeled building, three floors high and not very wide. It was smaller than I'd expected, didn't look like money till I got inside. The office was brightly lit and had huge two-tone photos of the N.Y.C. skyline for wallpaper.

(To Be Continued)

LOOK, MA! NO HANDS—Designed for bundle-laden shoppers, this no-hands telephone is being tried out at a public phone booth in the Cincinnati (Ohio) City Hall. The equipment, only such installation in the nation, enables the caller to talk over a small speaker alongside the phone (right) without removing the handset. The voice of the person on the other end of the line comes in over the same speaker, which also has a volume control. You still need a free hand to place the call and drop the coins. If the dialer considers the call not one for "public consumption," the whole system can be bypassed by using the hand set.

Kohler Strike Fireworks to Be Resumed

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee prepared to resume hearings on the long Kohler Co. strike today with more fireworks in prospect and no end in sight.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy estimated that some 40 witnesses were still to be heard. Some committee sources put it higher.

Kennedy said the committee hopes to hear President Walter P. Reuther of the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers later this week on the UAW's four-year-old strike against the Wisconsin plumbing fixture firm. But more of the Reuther wrangling that has delayed proceedings to date was expected.

Reuther himself tossed a little fuel on the smoldering partisan fires over the weekend. He focused his remarks on a favorite target—Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Reuther offered to resign from the labor movement if Goldwater, a Republican committee member, could prove to a jury of clergymen that Reuther is a "more dangerous menace than the Sputniks or anything Russia might do."

Goldwater had so described Reuther at a GOP fund raising dinner in Detroit last January.

In a letter to Goldwater, Reuther suggested that he and the senator each name three clergymen—a Catholic, a Protestant and a Jew—and present their cases to the resulting six-man jury. If they supported Goldwater's charge, Reuther said he would resign from his union, from the AFL-CIO and from the labor movement "entirely."

"If they decide that you have not substantiated your charge, I would leave it up to your own conscience as to whether you would consider yourself fit to continue to play a role in American public life," Reuther said.

British Queen Visits Nairobi

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth, who has cancelled a scheduled stop at Nairobi on her flight home from a round-the-world tour, the Colonial Office said today.

The Kenya capital has been ablaze with rumors of a Mau Mau terrorist assassination plot against the Queen's Mother in Nairobi. The government has officially denied uncovering any such plot.

The Colonial Office gave no explanation of the cancellation. It said the Queen's plane would fly over Kenya to Entebbe in Uganda.

Future Teachers Plan Convention

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—More than 500 students, representing 79 high schools and 14 colleges, are expected to attend the ninth annual convention of the Arkansas Association of Future Teachers of America here this weekend.

Dick Brown of Hendrix College will be in charge of the convention. He said more than 400 delegates have indicated already they will attend the convention Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Matt Ellis, former president of Hendrix College will be the main speaker at a Friday night banquet.

Two general sessions will be held, one Friday afternoon and the other Saturday morning. The association includes high school and college students planning to become teachers after graduation.

SEARCH ABANDONED

NAPLES, Italy (UP)—The hunt for a missing U.S. Navy jet plane from the aircraft carrier Saratoga was abandoned Sunday night. Four ships scouted the Mediterranean for two days without finding a trace of the plane. The pilot's name has not yet been released.

Major Snow Hits Much of the Nation

The second major snowfall of the winter dumped up to nine inches of slushy snow on the St. Louis area, and weather men warned a new storm will hit the Texas Panhandle with heavy snow today.

Although St. Louis was hit hardest by the storm Sunday, it also spread a three- to four-inch snow blanket across parts of central and southern Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana and southern Ohio.

The snow had been predicted for the Great Lakes region during the weekend, but a high-pressure ridge swept out of Canada and deluged the storm southward.

In the East, the mid-Atlantic states were pelted Sunday and early today with a mixture of rain, sleet and snow through Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Fresh snow also fell in the northern Plains today with one to two inches reported over most of Montana, the Dakotas and south through Kansas. The new snow brought accumulations in northern Kansas to about one foot and North Platte, Neb., had an eight-inch snow cover.

Near Ogden, Utah, two skiers were killed Sunday when they were buried under tons of snow in an avalanche at the Snow Basin ski resort. The victims were identified as Lincoln Milson, Ogden, and Tony Dean, Salt Lake City.
